between july and october 1940 in what became known as the battle of britain a nation held its breath while the pilots of the royal air force battled hitler s luftwaffe in the skies above england a huge number of airmen lost their lives in this hard fought episode and in the four years of air campaigns that followed and those who survived faced terrifying risks as prime minister winston churchill put it never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few in this beautifully illustrated tribute to the few bill howard catalogues the objects which were essential to every wartime pilot from the superstitious good luck charm to the parachute on which his life might have depended and a wealth of other poignant items relating to his day to day existence during the air war against the nazis apart from the quiet chatter of a few mechanics who were checking that one aircraft was too badly damaged ever to fly again there was a shocked silence over the aerodrome as everyone there tried to understand the impossible twelve twin engined bombers of 82 squadron raf had set out on a fine may morning in 1940 from watton norfolk in a brave but hopeless attempt to slow down the german armour ripping through belgium sergeant thomas jock morrison was the pilot of the only one to come home heavy losses in bomber command in the second world war were common normal came with the territory but this eleven out of twelve were shot down by flak and fighters and lay in burning fragments along the belgium france border it is said that history repeats itself and so it was almost exactly three months later on a cloudy day in august 1940 that twelve more twin engined bristol blenheim bombers each with a crew of three men set off from watton norfolk in a brave but hopeless attempt to destroy a luftwaffe base in enemy occupied denmark one aircraft had to turn for home before it reached the target the other eleven pressed on as the clouds disappeared and on a fine sunny morning were all shot down by flak and fighters and lay in burning fragments on the shores of the lymfjord at the time when the whole world was trying to understand the impossible how germany could conquer denmark norway the netherlands belgium and france in a few weeks and poland before that and surely great britain next 82 squadron s disasters were barely noticed based on the accounts of survivors and on squadron and other records gordon thorburn s moving retelling of the story of the events of it and the men in it at last puts right that terrible omission
